NO MONEY FOR M'KEE ROAD NOW

State Highway Commission Turns Down Application For Help In Building Highway

A delegation of loyal good roads boosters from Jackson county passed through Richmond Tuesday morning en route home from Frankfort greatly discouraged. They had been before the State Highway Department seeking state and federal aid for the building of the highway over the hills into Jackson county and on to their county seat, McKee.

Although Jackson county has voted $125,000 in bonds and stands ready to make up by subscription about $25,000 more, these gentlemen were unable to obtain any assurance that the Highway Department will co-operate in the building of this great desired road, anywhere in the near future. They brought every fact possible before the Highway Commission showing the great need of this roadway. They also pointed out that Madison county's fiscal court had agreed to contribute $6,000 toward the completion of the roadway the short distance necessary to the Jackson county line. But the State Highway Department, it is reported, said it has no money at present to put on this road plan, and that the cost is going to be very heavy to build this road.

Squire William Hurst said that the Jackson county men offered to work for and co-operate in the building of a roadway by any route that might be suggested, just so his people could get out of the mud. He said that his people offered to take the Scaffold Cane route, if they couldn't get a closer road to Richmond. However, he declares the Highway Commission engineers said that some $3,000 or $4,000 a mile would be necessary to complete the present portion of the road along that route and when the work got to Jackson county the cost would run up to something like $18,000 a mile. Such a figure, of course, staggered everyone.

The State Highway Commission had an engineer go over this proposed route over the hills and into Jackson county a few weeks ago, and it is supposed that he must have made a very unfavorable report for the State Commission to "sit down" on such an urgent plea for a road with such emphasis. All agree that such a road would prove of vast benefit to thousands of people who know not the meaning of a good road. It would open up an immense territory back in Jackson, Clay and other mountain counties which have no other outlet to highways.

Squire Hurst, who reported the result of the trip to Frankfort to the Daily Register, was greatly discouraged. He declared he would go back to his little blacksmith shop in Clover Bottom much disappointed.

"I have taken my time off and worked for good roads for three or four years, and I will still work for them to the best of my ability," declared Squire Hurst. "But it does seem a shame that those fellows at Frankfort are spending so much money on the blue grass roads and won't give us a little up in the mountains and help us out of the mud."

In the Jackson county delegation besides Squire Hurst, were W. R. Reynolds, of Tyner, county agricultural agent for Jackson county, and County Judge Carter Moore.

Many Richmond and Madison county men are deeply regretful that the State Highway Commission could not see its way to giving some help on this road now. They realize what an immense source of trade would be opened up to Madison county and Richmond by the building of such a road. In fact this county would become the outlet for all the back country trade that now scatters about indiscriminately wherever it can obtain an outlet on horseback or muleback or in log wagons.

A dispatch from Frankfort Tuesday said that the Highway Commission did approve two roads which will open up other mountainous sections and take them out of the mud.

One road for which Cumberland, Metcalfe and Barren county residents will undertake to raise $75,000, will be a continuation of a road built by Cumberland county

UTILITIES LINEMAN FALLS WITH POLE

J. D. Peel Sustains Broken Shoulder, Ribs and Other In- juries In Fall of 25 Feet

J. D. Peel, lineman for the Kentucky Utilities Company, was severely injured when a pole fell with him about 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. His left shoulder was broken in two places, two ribs were fractured and it is feared that they may have punctured the lung. He is receiving every possible attention at the Gibson Hospital.

Mr. Peel was working with Willie Wheeler placing a new cross arm on a pole on Fifth street. The weight caused the pole to snap off down in the ground Mr. Peel, who was near the top, went over with the pole, a distance of about 25 feet and the heavy timber struck on top of him. He was hardly conscious when picked up and rushed to the hospital. Manager George Fawkes, who had been with the crew a few minutes before the accident, saw to it that every attention was given his injured helper.

Mr. Peel came here about eight months ago from Winchester where he had been working for the company. His home is at Farmersville, Texas. He is unmarried. He is said to be a very fine electrician and has made many friends in town since coming here.

FEW FOUND LAST WEEK'S MISSING WORD

Replies to the Daily Register's Missing Word contest came in as numerous for the second week as they did for the first. But answers were not nearly so correct. Out of several hundred only four or five found the right word.

In the advertisement of J. S. Stanifer, the word "on" was left out of the last line above the signature. As it appeared in the advertisement the line read: "to see it and try a pair."

The line should have read: "to see it and try on a pair."

This week's page of advertisements will probably be printed tomorrow. It is probable that those who missed last week may find the next missing word, and perhaps those who found it last week may miss it this.

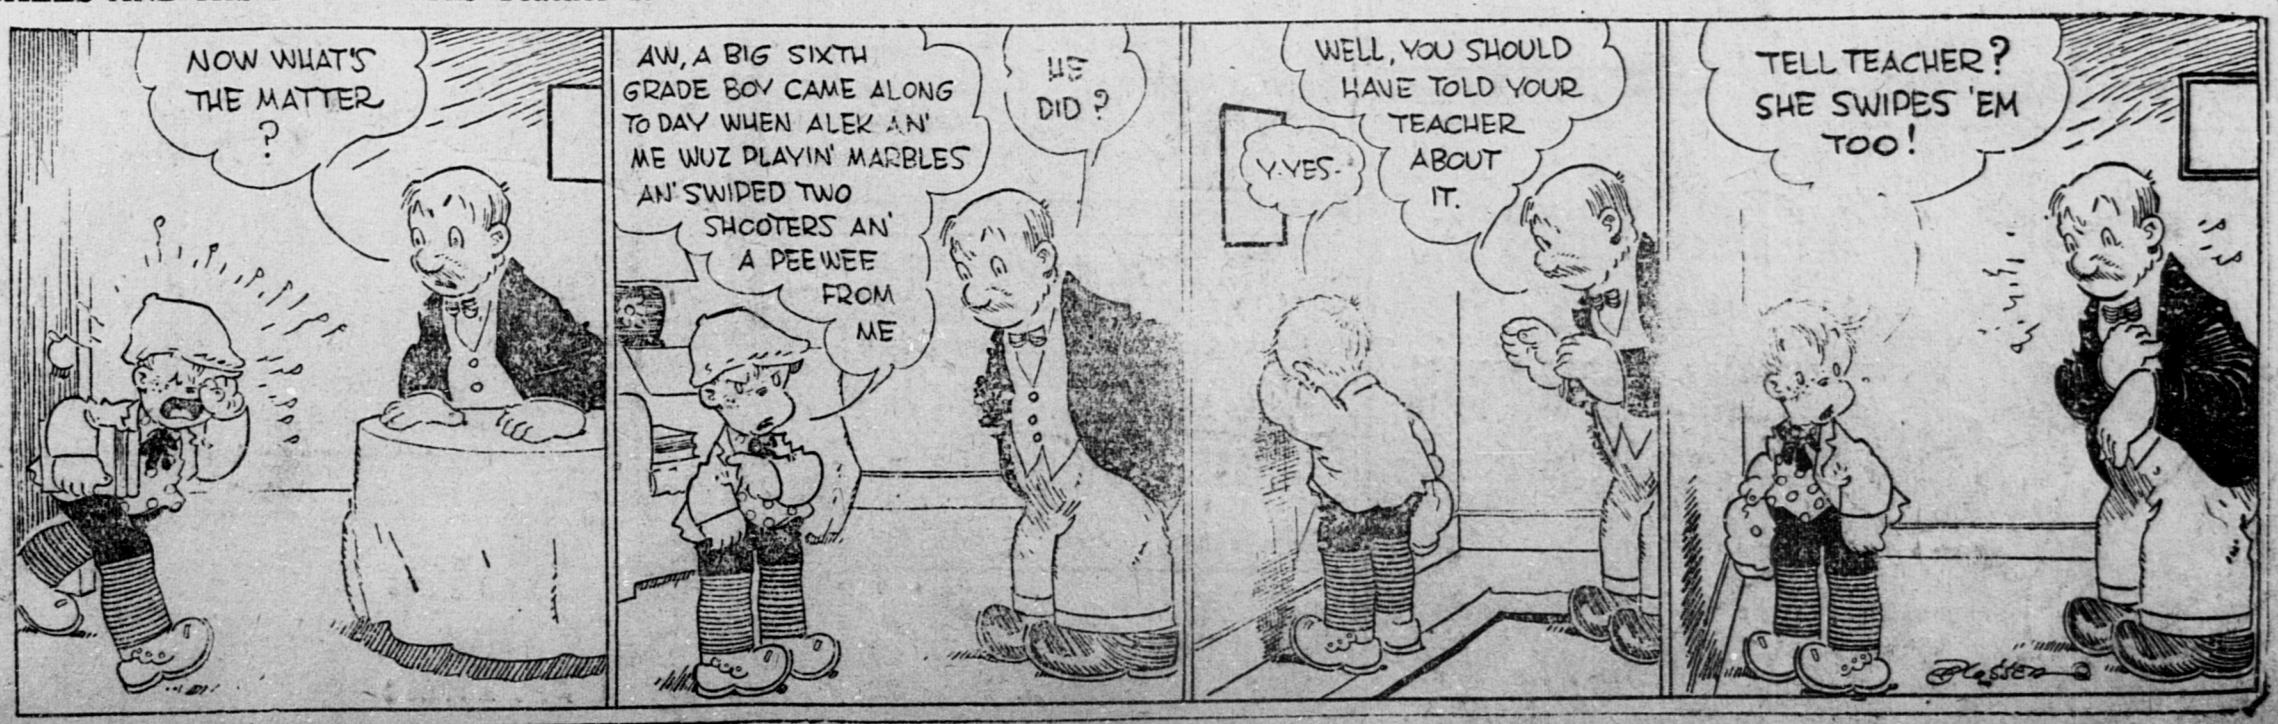

There are 11 more weekly appearances of the missing word page. Everyone has a chance yet to win the prizes. Business men who took advantage of the advertising stunt are loud in their praises. It makes one read the ads, and the business man who has a message to tell the public can be absolutely certain that his advertisement on this page is receiving careful attention.

6,000 TEACHERS AT FIRST K. E. A. SESSION

President, Mrs. Hall, Tells Them To Keep School Work Con- stantly Before Public

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., April 12—With 6,000 teachers here, the Kentucky Educational Association began its annual meeting here today. In her opening address Mrs. M. L. Hall, of Shelbyville president, urged that the schools be kept constantly before the public in the community in which they are located.

Louisville, Ky., April 12—Keep the schools constantly before the people of the community in which they are located, was the advice given the members of the Kentucky Educational Association at the first business session of the annual convention of the organization here today by Mrs. M. L. Hall, of Shelbyville, its president. "You don't give money gladly for something you don't know anything about," she told the teachers. "Most people do not know anything about the schools."

"The school boards know something about schools," continued Mrs. Hall. "They are terribly handicapped in their work by the indifference and lack of knowledge of the rest of the community. When they want to do anything new and the schools, there are always people who say 'it costs too much' without knowing a thing about it. But why don't they know a thing about it? Why aren't our schools really public? Well, chiefly because we haven't told the public; because we have been willing to let the schools be private."

The government of the state is inadequate, Mrs. Hall declared, and this is one of the things due, she asserted, to the fact that the "best people are not always sought to fill our offices", and as a result many of the subjects needing governmental care are neglected. "We must create the teaching process that will make the citizens of the future," she said. He must be responsible, not passively be recipient of the state, seeking and acquiring the training that will make him an intelligent civic force. We must face that fact that our schools are the hotbed of our civilization, with its faults and when we find a question at the end we must come back with the question to the beginning."

Most people in this country leave school too young, Mrs. Hall asserted and with the rapid advance of education there is always danger that the citizen whose school days are rapidly receding will regard the school as a thing with which he has no part. She asserted that it is natural to idealize the methods used when one school and to overlook the new demands.

Declaring the Education was largely responsible for the increase in values of land Mrs. Hall asserted that "therefore there is nothing unjust or hurtful in levying a tax upon such values for the support of public Education." The report of the Kentucky Educational Survey Commission she characterized as the beacon light for the guidance of the educators of the state for the next ten years.

What Will Radio Bring,

When Edward Bellamy, 35 years ago, wrote his fascinating prophecy, "Looking Backward," from the year 2000, people gasped at his daring while appreciating his imagination. In one astounding chapter the "Rip Van Winkle" of the narrative is taken to the music room, where he is asked to make known his choice from a very long 24-hour music program. He indicates an organ piece; his hostess "made me sit down comfortably, and, crossing the room, so far as I could see, merely touched one or two screws, and at once the room was filled with the music of a grand organ anthem."

Such an incredible prophecy that the Bellamy work was classified in the libraries as "fiction," and so speedily has scientific development occurred that in many libraries it still is "fiction." Yet this is only 1922, not 2000, and by the time the Bellamy era of prediction is reached who dares to foretell the achievements of men.

The radio is an accomplished fact. Man has discovered a great secret; now he sets to work to develop and apply it. The limitation of the human voice exists no longer, and a whisper thrown to the air becomes instantaneously a chorus in a million homes.

Its possibilities are so limitless that the day is not far distant when every home, every building, public, private, will be equipped to receive the signals from the air. The radio receiving set will be as much a part of the building as the furnace and the kitchen stove. It will be possible, as it is now, for every man, woman and child to hear, at the instant of transmission, whatever is given to the air.

What then? When every home, when every building in the country, in the civilized world, has its receiving set to let in the voice of the world, just as today every home has its windows to let in the sunlight and fresh air, how best will this wonderful discovery be used for the convenience of mankind? There is a field for a Jules Verne to explore—he could fling a man around the world in 30 days, today a message is flung around the world in as many seconds.

But all speculation dies away before the inevitability of further and even greater advances in the use of the new medium. Millions whose imagination has been captured by the geni of the air are giving their minds and their enthusiasm to this task. Daily experiments are recorded. A United States general has just announced one great step. Inventions are cumulative. Given a key to the beginning and development follows more rapidly almost than the layman can follow, or the manufacturer produce the appliances.

It is not too much to anticipate the radiophone as the supreme medium of human fellowship, whereby all peoples may grow closer together in thought and purpose, with the inevitable dissipation of differences which comes with understanding.

This great triumph of peace has brought to the present day a stimulus and interest so much greater than anything recorded in history that it seems as though it can not do less than reconstruct the very basis of humanity's daily intercourse and relations.

Found Old Spanish Coin

Mr. Averill Jones, of Lincoln county, formerly of Mercer, called at the Herald office Tuesday. He had with him an ancient Spanish coin found by his son, Andrew Jones, in the old luring ground of the slaves of Governor Shelby. The silver piece is stamped 1782. On one side is a head with the lettering "Carolus III Del Gratia." On the other side is the coat of arms and "Hispan t Ind Rex R. F. F." The coin is much worn with its almost a century and a half of handling and the above is as near as can be deciphered. Mr. M. Cravens has in his possession a Spanish coin with the same lettering as the one described above except the date. It was coined in 1776, six years before the date of the Harrodsburg coin.—Harrodsburg Herald.

Why the '10.90 USCO is better than just a '10.90 tire

On November 10, 1921, the 30 x 3 1/2 "USCO" was marked to sell for $10.90.

This odd and closely figured price was the lowest quotation ever made on any tire of known standards.

A genuine pioneering step by the makers of U. S. Tires.

Now comes a lot of different $10.90 tires being rushed into the market. "Special" tires. "New" trends.

Unfamiliar to look at—with perhaps an atmosphere of having been made to meet the price.

But the "USCO" still occupies a place by itself. A good old standby on millions of cars for years. Better than it ever was.

Still putting the emphasis on honest quality, even if it does sell for only ten dollars and ninety cents.

The $10.90 tire with the record of a proven product.

The tire that people still buy for the dignity of its quality regardless of the low amount they pay.

Rheumatism at 60

S.S.S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight. The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body. Limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her good heart still belongs to the stars. Does anybody care? S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a superb tonic, a blood maker, a blood purifier. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight. Mother, do you ever feel a cold to get a bottle of S.S.S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody get a bottle of S.S.S. now. Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe let your mother S.S.S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S.S.S. do it. It will build you up, too!

YOUNG GIRLS NEED CARE

Mothers, watch your Daughters' Health

Health Is Happiness

From the time a girl reaches the age of twelve until womanhood is established, she needs all the care a thoughtful mother can give.

The condition that the girl is then passing through is so critical, and may have such far-reaching effects upon her future happiness and health, that it is almost criminal for a mother or guardian to withhold counsel or advice.

Many a woman has suffered years of prolonged pain and misery through having been the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance on the part of those who should have guided her through the dangers and difficulties that beset this period.

Mothers should teach their girls what danger comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, and from overworking. Do not let them over-study. If they complain of headaches, pains in the back and lower limbs, they need a mother's thoughtful care and sympathy.

A Household Word in Mother's House writes Mrs. Lynd, about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. "My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I was 14 years old for troubles girls often have and for loss of weight. Then after I married I took the Vegetable Compound before each child was born and always when I felt the least run down. Both my sister and sister-in-law take it and have only the highest praise for it. It has been a household word in my mother's house for years." — Mrs. KATHERYN LYND, 2431 Gladys Ave., Chicago, Ill.

A Little Book Helped Her to Decide

Milwaukee, Wis. — "My daughter took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she was so weak and did not feel like going to school. She was like that for a whole year before taking your Vegetable Compound. I found a little book of yours in our mail-box and decided to give her your medicine. She is now strong and well and attends school every day. We recommend your Vegetable Compound to all mothers with weak daughters. You may use this letter as a testimonial." — Mrs. E. K. KUCZY, 917 29th Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

"I was always feeling tired and sleepy, was losing in weight and would faint at times. I had other troubles too, that made me feel badly. I read your little book and heard friends talk about the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done them, so I have taken it too. The results are most satisfactory. For I have gained in weight and my bad symptoms are gone. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to all my friends and you may make whatever use you like of this letter." — GLORIA RAMIREZ, 1116 9th Ave., Tampa, Florida.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

MUSIC POTENT IN GUIDING FEELINGS

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., April 12—Music is the most potent influence in guiding or forming our opinions and the time will come when we will be able to put certain records on the phonograph and "develop" in us a mood of courage, or kindness, or faith, or whatever our particular need may be. Prof. Peter W. Dykema, chairman of the Department of Public School Music, University of Wisconsin, told the Kentucky Educational Association at its annual convention here today. He asserted that as much advance may be expected in music as has been made in medicine during recent years.

He predicted that the teaching of music would eventually be made as much a matter of state education as law or medicine.

"At least 75 per cent of our actions are decided by our feelings," said Prof. Dykema.

"The most potent influence in guiding or forming our feelings is music. Mankind has recorded from the earliest days the effect that music had had in stimulating the emotions and inciting to action, but from the time of the incident of David and Saul down to the present we have been content with a general knowledge of what music can do. The therapy of music has not passed beyond the faking of the old time magicians. As we grow wiser we may expect as much advance in using music as medicine has in directing the use of drugs and other medicinal agencies. The time will come when we shall be able to place this or that record on the phonograph in order that it may develop in us a mood of courage, of kindness, or faith, or whatever our particular need may be.

"Likewise society is going to give a more adequate financial support to music. We are now regarding musical education in about the same position we were a century or more ago in regarding the education of the high school and college rank. The youth who desired to be a doctor or lawyer had to pay for this higher education out of his private means. Today the publicly supported institutions prepare for every profession almost completely at the expense of the state. In music, with the exception of a little rudimentary instruction given in the school, society maintains that musical education is a private benefit to be paid for by private tax, or tuition. As we begin to realize the tremendous effect which music may have in developing a contented, right-feeling nation we shall regard such advance instructions as piano, violin, band and orchestral instruments playing as contributing sufficiently to the public good so that it will be included on our regular scheme of public instruction at public expense."

Female Boxer Feature of Show

As the feature attraction of the United States Exposition Shows, Miss Dolly Lewis stands by herself, being the undisputed feminine pugilistic champion of the world she has met and defeated practically defeated every lady boxer of the universe and at the present time she is compelled to box men in order to obtain work at her particular profession. Owing to the fact that Miss Lewis is under contract with the Shubert Vaudeville Association, she will not arrive here with the shows until possibly Wednesday two days following the termination of her contract. From Wednesday night on Miss Lewis will be added to Jimmy Murphy's congress of athletes, meeting all comers. Miss Lewis is positively the only bona fide female boxer touring the road and the management of the United States Exposition Shows are being congratulated upon obtaining Miss Lewis name to a contract for the remainder of the season.

Laurel Farmers Use Limestone

In an effort to improve their soils through the use of limestone, Laurel county farmers have set a goal for 150 cars to be used in that section this year, according to County Agent F. B. Wilson. During one month, two carloads of material were received and distributed each week, he added. Farmers in three communities reduced the cost of their fertilizers by pooling orders.
